

PROTECT YOUR FAMILY FROM CONTAMINATED SOIL AND GROUNDWATER

Your home inspector doesn't just want to ensure structural safety—he or she wants you to know your potential property from the ground up. There are serious environmental hazards in many neighborhoods across the country, and you deserve to know about them!

Be sure to ask your home inspector for an EDR Neighborhood Environmental Report™.
Get the facts before you commit to a new home.

We have over 23 million records of environmental contamination. Make sure you and your family aren't affected by them.
